

Clan Donald Society of Queensland.

Clan Donald Society of Queensland is the home of kith and kin of the great Clan Donald, the greatest of all the Highland Clans – it's main branches being : The Isles; Clanranald; Keppoch; Glencoe; Sleat; Antrim.

The role of the Society is to maintain communication for and with the clansfolk of Clan Donald and it's Septs, and :

- to foster an appreciation of the culture of Scotland ;
- to encourage and support research into the history and genealogy of Clan Donald and its people, and it's contribution to the development of Australia;
- to organise and assist in the conduct of functions and events in Queensland relating to the above.
- to disseminate this through a quarterly Newsletter.

Membership in the Society assists in all of these aims.
